

MESSAGE ON FRIDAY

More Time to Be Allowed for Distribution

WILL CONSIDER RAILROAD

And Trust Law Amendments—Printing Will Be Complete To-day—Congress Will Give Right of Way to the New Legislation.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The further announcement was made at the White House yesterday that President Taft's combined special message on the interstate commerce and anti-trust laws would not go to Congress until Friday. It was stated that the president desired that further time should be given for the distribution of the message, which was sent out in printed form yesterday afternoon.

After a conference with Senators Aldrich and Root and Attorney General Vickersham, President Taft decided to revert to his original plan of combining his views as to amendments to the interstate commerce and anti-trust laws in one message. This decision on the part of the president is said to be final. The combined message will be about 3,000 words in length. The president had been urged by some senators to treat the two subjects in separate papers, and announcement was made that this would be done. The time that the message should go forward to Congress has been subject to frequent changes, on account of various consultations the president desired to have. These conferences have been completed, and so have the messages, which, combined in the one document, have been sent to the government printing office. The president's proposed railroad legislation will be given the right of way in both Senate and House.

Assurance also was given that the proposed changes in the railroad laws will be written in the statute books during the session. There will be some opposition to the rather drastic legislation which the president will recommend, but this will be overcome, it is said, and the president will be supported in both branches of Congress.

Sensators Root and Aldrich went to the White House to discuss various features of the legislative program for the present session, as well as the special messages. The decision as to the railroad legislation being given precedence over all other administration measures, was the only definite conclusion reached at this time. As to the ship subsidy, the postal savings banks, the changes in the conservation laws, and the proposed federal incorporation act, neither senator would say as to when they would be given consideration.

RUSSIA SENTENCES AMERICAN.

Engineer Meads to be in Custody One Week.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Joseph K. Meads, an American and two local engineers were condemned by the superior court yesterday to one week's arrest for negligence in connection with the explosion on the submarine Dragon in the Neva River last August. This reverses the decision of the admiralty investigating committee, which found that the accident was due to unavoidable causes. Meads, whose home is in Baltimore, was the engineer of the Dragon and in the employ of the builder, Simon Lake of Bridgeport, Conn. He and sixteen others were injured in the explosion, which was said to be due probably to the ignition of benzine. The submarine, built for the Russian government, had not been formally accepted at that time.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure, or the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, bristly dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, The Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

MARK TWAIN FAR FROM WELL.

He Is Now Making Another Trip to Bermuda.

New York, Jan. 6.—In far from good health and grief-stricken at the recent sudden death of his daughter, Jean, Samuel L. Clemens, better known as Mark Twain, the author, sailed back to Bermuda yesterday. It was only a little over two weeks ago that Mr. Clemens returned from Bermuda to spend the Christmas holidays at his home in West Redding, Conn. He complained at the time of not feeling well but later denied with his generally humorous touches that there was anything serious the matter with him. Yesterday, the tragic event at his home had not visibly bowed the veteran humorist's head, and he was plainly making a brave fight to appear his old-time self. But the familiar parting jest was lacking.

Mr. Clemens said yesterday that the ailment of which he complained on his arrival had returned. He attributed the illness to his left breast, however, to indigestion, and that it is not the sort of ailment that causes people to die, added the humorist, with a faint touch of his old-time levity. He expects to stay at least a month, he said, the time of his return depending upon the improvement of his health, which he believes a period on the island will benefit.

"WHITE SLAVE" MEN FLEE.

Go to Boston, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Chicago.

New York, Jan. 6.—Alarmed by the activity of the special grand jury headed by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to investigate the so-called "white slave" traffic, many persons believed to have been engaged in that business have fled from the city, taking refuge in Philadelphia, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Boston and other cities, which were known as distributing points for enslaved women.

The identity of these "white slave" traders was first discovered by U. S. secret service detectives, who had been at work on the scandal for several weeks in connection with an investigation made by the immigration officials. The evidence, collected by the government authorities, will be presented to the special grand jury.

Certain men and women in the Tenderloin and East Side districts, who were found to be conducting clearing houses in the traffic of women and young girls, have been closely watched by secret service men, and now they report, since the special grand jury was sworn in, that many of these suspected persons have fled from the city.

LETTER CASE IN GRAND JURY.

Theft of Wickham's Epistle to Wise, Which was Printed in Magazine.

New York, Jan. 6.—The federal grand jury has begun an investigation of the theft of a letter of Attorney General Wickham from the office of United States District Attorney Wise. The letter, which was dated June 27, last, and concerned the sugar fraud prosecution, was subsequently printed in the Cosmopolitan magazine, published by William Randolph Hearst. It has been known for some time that the attorney general's office has had the matter under investigation, but it was not until yesterday that the inquiry reached the point to warrant its consideration by the grand jury. The proceedings, of course, were secret, but it is understood that government detectives, who for months have been hunting the Wickham letter thief, have in some way discovered some kind of a connection between the theft of Mr. Wise's office and the recent ransacking of the country residence of Secretary of State Knox at Valley Forge, Pa.

MRS. MORSE AT ATLANTA.

She Visits Her Husband in Federal Prison.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 6.—Mrs. Charles W. Morse, wife of the financier now in the federal prison here, has arrived. She was met at the station by her husband's friend, W. R. Reid. The convicted banker met the pair with a smile, and talked over with them the next day. He is in the cell in the building, not until the time for paring came that she showed emotion. Mrs. Morse will not be permitted to see him again for fifteen days. Reid, however, because of the business interests of his friend, and the fact that others might suffer from neglect of them, will be permitted to see the prisoner often. Morse has not been assigned to any task as yet.

RESTORED TO SANITY.

John Sudbrink, Brakeman, Insane Two Years.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 6.—John Sudbrink, who has been insane since he was injured two years ago while working as a brakeman on the Big Four railroad, has been restored to sanity by an operation on his skull, which was to be performed by a specialist. It was to be held that $10,000 damages he obtained from the company has been expended in medical treatment.

Another Severely Hurt in Peoria, Ill.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE

"Insurgents" Amazed When They Hear of Reported Move

NOT READY TO BELIEVE

Plan to Meet the Attack of the Administration—The Situation Will Be Given Earnest Consideration.

Washington, Jan. 6.—With amazement in some cases bordering on anger, the Republican "insurgent" members of the House yesterday read the published reports that they were to be singled out by the administration for punishment for their rebellious conduct as members of the majority party of the House.

Several of them were unsmiling in their denunciation of a policy which sought to punish a man for freedom and independence of thought and action, as they expressed it.

Not a few were loath to believe that President Taft would lend his aid in an effort to administer castigation to them for supporting the very principles and policies for which they asserted the party stood pledged.

Representative Madison of Kansas expressed a view of the matter to which several of his associates subscribed. He said:—

"We insurgents, as we are called, are not against Taft or his policies. We are, I believe, in favor of every leading reform to which the president and the Republican party is committed. For instance, I am in favor of postal savings banks, conservation of natural resources, regulation of injunction, reform of federal court procedure, government regulation and control of industrial and carrying corporations, the publication of campaign funds and other reforms.

"It is slanderous to say that we can be swayed from the course of supporting these reforms by the withholding of official patronage by anybody, or by induced to support this or that proposition by the offering of a sop of any kind.

"It is not the insurgents of the House, but men like Aldrich and Cannon, whom the president will have to induce to support his policies."

Representative Norris of Nebraska added his approval of the above declaration, as did Representative Hayes of California, who said that his fight was solely against the rules of the House and its present organization. It was the independence of the representatives in Congress which he was contending for, he said.

It is expected that the Republican "insurgents" of the House will call a meeting at an early date to give earnest consideration to the situation arising from the announcement that the administration would no longer countenance "insurgents" in Congress and would withhold patronage from the recalcitrant leaders.

Most of the radical insurgent leaders of the House feel that with the elections but a few months distant it is a life and death struggle with them, and consequently, when forced into the fray, have no hesitation about carrying the war to any extent. The effort to defeat insurgent congressmen by starting a fight against them in their home districts, which it was reported Tuesday, had already begun in several districts in the West, was hit hard and the congressmen so attacked will probably make no choice of weapons in defending themselves.

It was expected that some statement would be forthcoming yesterday from the administration side as to its attitude regarding the insurgents. So far, Postmaster General Hitchcock has remained silent under the statement emanating from Representative Miller of Minnesota to the effect that Mr. Hitchcock was holding up the appointments of postmasters recommended by insurgent Republican members of the House.

ASK PARDON FOR MORSE.

Petition to Taft Is Circulated in Portland—Mrs. Morse at Atlanta.

Portland, Jan. 6.—Petitions addressed to President Taft asking for the absolute pardon of Charles W. Morse, who, on Monday, began his sentence of fifteen years in the federal prison at Atlanta, are in circulation in this city. The petitions set forth that he did no intentional wrong, that he has repaid the debts, that the jury which found him guilty was largely influenced by popular clamor, and that, even though guilty, Morse already has paid the penalty by the term of imprisonment he has served while waiting the outcome of the case.

COOK'S NOTEBOOKS ARRIVE.

Head of Investigating Committee Says They Will Not Change Judgment.

Copenhagen, Jan. 6.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook's original notebooks have arrived here and will be examined by the committee immediately. Reformer Selmonson says, however, that the investigation will not alter the committee's judgment. He has seen the notebooks and is convinced that the explorer's claim to discovery of the pole is not bona fide.

LITTLE TIM HAD LITTLE CASH.

Late Tammany Leader Left Only $2.00.

New York, Jan. 6.—While it was generally thought that the late "Little Tim" Sullivan, Tammany aldermanic leader, had died a millionaire, it is now understood that he left practically nothing. Only $2,000 on deposit in a bank is all the cash to be available for his widow and son. The report that he held stocks and bonds or deeds for large parcels of real estate in this city is said to be unfounded.

HER BEAUTY GONE FOREVER

Brooklyn Girl Victim of Discarded Lover

WAS JEALOUS WITH RAGE

Her Face, Hands and Arms Are Scarred by Sulphuric Acid—Police of Whole City Search for the Missing Man.

New York, Jan. 6.—Accused by Miss Mary Quigley of 263 3d avenue, Brooklyn, of scarring her face, neck and hands with sulphuric acid in a fit of jealous rage, Frank Timms, 27 years old, a plumber, of 133 6th avenue, Brooklyn, is being sought by all of the police of the greater city.

Miss Quigley was Tuesday a pretty woman. To-day she is disfigured for life. Only by instinctively throwing up her hands, containing a muf, as the burning shower fell on her, did she save herself from blindness. She is 23 years old and a telephone operator, employed by the Interborough in its offices at 20th street and 3d avenue.

Timms and Miss Quigley were formerly engaged to be married, and he was very constant in his attentions. Her parents found some objection to him and forbade him the house. The couple had been friends since childhood and Miss Quigley was very fond of him. She appeared to be still, but at the insistence of her parents gave him up.

Timms tried frequently to see her, but she contrived to elude him. At one time, it is understood, he insisted on an immediate marriage, and when his fiancée refused drew a pistol in the parlor of her home and threatened to shoot her. She agreed, but her brother disarmed him. Because of her affection for him, she explained, she declined to have him arrested.

That was before the formal breaking of the engagement. Since then, he had made desperate efforts to see her, and when she heard he had been seen several times lurking about the elevated stairs at 20th street recently, she never started home alone, and always took a train at another station.

One of Miss Quigley's New Year's resolutions was that she would no longer be afraid of her admirer. She decided to have it out with him once for all. She hesitated for several days and decided Tuesday night that she would not try to avoid him. Shortly after business hours she started bravely home. On the steps, her discarded lover was waiting.

"Why do you try to keep away from me?" he is said to have asked. She told him her parents objected to him, and she always obeyed her parents. "May, why don't you marry me?" he demanded. "Don't you ever intend to?" She replied that she did not intend to. He hesitated for a moment.

"You'll be my friend?" he pleaded. She said she could not even be that.

"Then you won't have any other," he muttered, according to Miss Quigley. "Nobody will want to look at you."

She had seen something in his hand, and now saw as he raised it that it was a bottle. She screamed, put up her muf, and in an instant felt the acid eating into her flesh, but her eyes had escaped. Her assailant fled, pursued by several men called by the girl's shrieks. But the man escaped.

Policeman Meekie of the East 104th street station found the girl lying on the sidewalk, her face, hands and neck terribly burned. He carried her into a nearby drug store and called an ambulance from Harlem hospital.

Dr. Tourist found her suffering greatly, but that not a drop had touched her eyes, thanks to the muf. She will probably be disfigured for life, although the burns are not serious. After she had been attended she insisted on going home and was put aboard a train. The Brooklyn police were telephoned, and a policeman met her at the station and escorted her to her residence.

At first she declared she would not prosecute the young man, but her family convinced her it would be necessary to protect herself, and if he is caught she will appear against him.

The bottle was found later near the elevated stairs and had contained sulphuric acid. When asked why her family objected to Timms, a brother of Miss Quigley started to say something about the man's being unable to support her, but with a gesture she cut him off.

Danced on 100th Birthday.

New York, Jan. 5.—William Redmond, whose family Bible is authority for the claim that he was 100 years old, yesterday celebrated his centennial by dancing a jig at a birthday party which neighbors at Oakhurst, N. J., arranged in his honor. Redmond climbed on the water wagon 30 years ago and swore off tobacco then but before that time he had smoked and drunk regularly. He recently walked across the Brooklyn bridge.

SIXTY MEN PROBABLY LOST

Nova Scotia Fleet Caught in a Blizzard

TWELVE FISHING VESSELS

Missing Since Tuesday—Scent Hope Is Entertained for Their Safety—Ships Reaching New York Report Terrible Storms.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 6.—Forty fishermen of the Dover and Whitehead fleet in the Canoe district are missing in eight boats, which have been adrift since Tuesday noon. The seas have been high, the thermometer has been zero most of the time, and last night there was small hope that any of the victims of the blizzard, that carried them suddenly out to sea, will ever return alive. A fleet of searching steamers is scouring that part of the coast, but there are few who believe they will bring any tidings, other than complete disaster. Whitehead has lost four boats with 22 men, and Dover four boats with 19 men.

When the blizzard came, 25 boats were at work on the haddock fishery and 17 got back, mostly Canoe craft, the blow falling on the men from the villages of Dover and Whitehead. The Dominion government has sent out three steamers to search for the fishermen, and other craft are put out on this mission, but up to a late hour last night no rescues had been made, and hope is abandoned. Human endurance could not stand the terrible rigors of such temperature, exposed as the men are in open boats.

GIRL A HEROINE.

Saved Lives of Others and Nearly Lost Her Own Life.

Boston, Jan. 6.—Awakened from a sound slumber to find her room filled with smoke, Marie Evilo, a 19-year-old girl living in the tenement block, 20 and 32 Bennett street, South End, early yesterday, aroused 40 other men, women and children in the building and then, almost suffocated by the smoke, fled exhausted on the top floor.

She was saved from death by the prompt action of Captain Dolan and the men of ladder company 17, who made a dash through the burning stairways and brought her to the street, where she revived.

A second early morning rescue from a burning building was at 4 Burbank street, when Patrolman Thomas Murphy of the East Dedham street station prevented Mrs. Mollie Martin and her two sons from being overcome by the smoke in their tenements.

The monetary loss was not heavy. At Hull, three new cottages owned by George H. Hatch were burned early yesterday. The loss is $12,000.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as a sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trust your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. E. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.—take the advice received and be well.
